Activities of this year are planned at the beginning of the academic year for the smooth running of the college work and given the responsibility as coordinator / head. So the work of the year is done properly. The college always strives for holistic development of the students through the curriculum and other programs of the university. Through fieldwork, social problems are addressed with the methods of social work education. Students are trained through various courses like rural camp, study tour, seminar, case study, skill lab etc. For that, the professors in the college work to impart knowledge with passion. The contribution of post-academic staff is very valuable. From cleanliness to overall development of students, the college always strives. # Social work concepts and ideologies

Prof. Kisan Shingare

Assistant Professor

Manavlok Social Work College, Ambajogai.

Human society is a network of relationships. This web of relationship is becoming more complex day by day. Every person needs social, economic, and mental stability. Physical and mental needs are fulfilled by the society itself. So the individual is dependent on the society and alternatively the society is dependent on the individual. A person develops mentally and emotionally through socialization. A competent person is the strength of the society as well as the country. Recently, problems seem to be increasing due to complex socio-economic conditions. It is almost impossible to find a person without problems.

Our country has got a great cultural heritage. It is said that, natural mechanism for solving the problems and needs of the individual existed in the family and society. Due to this, the process of adjustment of children, widows, disabled, old people were being carried out through this system. It was based on religious philosophy. Emphasis was given on the concept of sin and virtue to inculcate love, charity and service. But in the middle ages, rituals became important. Religion was used to make people ignorant, uneducated. This period is also known as Tamoyug. Untouchability was observed in the society. There were many restrictions on the Roti-Beti transaction. Restrictions were placed on business. From Sant Dyaneshwara to Chokha Mela, the sufferings of gentlemen are well-known. Superstition and ignorance reached its peak. Due to the vice of discrimination between people, it became difficult for the common man to live. Women were restricted in their house. Social development was completely stunted, that's why it was possible for foreign powers to establish themselves here. Foreigners used their power only for exploitation. During this period, the society continued to decline.

The British adopted the percolation theory of education to create workers suitable for their system. But this education became the breeding ground of the social reformers who brought the country out of the Tamoyuga. The early social reformer Raja Ram Mohan Roy studied the Vedas and worked tirelessly to pass the Act of 1829, proving that inhuman Satiprayo was not a religious order. Mahatma Phule attacked all the social stereotypes of the then society, raised the issue of agricultural laborers before the system, suggested social reforms, and implemented his philosophy in the form of truth-seeking society. Opened the doors of education to the common man, established a home for the prevention of feticide, and took steps ahead of time. While awakening the conscience, the mentality of slavery was severely attacked. The farmers were drawn against the exploiters. Sant Tukdoji Maharaj gave the basic mantra for village development through Gramgita. Gramadhudhi, village development, village protection, village health, village education, village industry, village organization are discussed in the book Gram Gita. Maharshi Dhondo Keshav Karve, Vitthal Ramji Shinde, Dr. The legacy of many great social reformers like Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar, Ramabai Ranade, Pandita Ramabai, Savitribai Phule etc. has benefited the social work faculty.

In today's modern society many new problems have arisen along with old problems are increasing day by day. Urbanization has given rise to slums. Industrialization has led to migration. The agriculture industry is in crisis due to drought. The youth is in a confused state due to unemployment. It is necessary to provide emotional support to the troubled person. If a person is made aware of their own abilities, they can overcome the problem. It is now widely accepted that counseling is legitimate for the adjustment of maladjusted people. Social work is being accepted as a profession today. When a person is unable to solve his own problems, he needs the help of social workers. A social worker with his knowledge and skills helps the troubled person to get out of that situation and become self-reliant. To present the issues of the society before the system requires good knowledge of the situation, communication skills, and leadership qualities. Education to develop these skills and create such activists is imparted by the Faculty of Social Work. We see that efforts are being made at the individual, institutional and government level to solve the problems of poverty, ill health, unemployment, violence, social crime, corruption, drought, addiction and to bring about development in the society. Knowledge at all these levels requires workers with social awareness and situational awareness. Today, torture is working in many fields along with the government. In fact, there will be no sector in the near future where the government will not have to seek the help of NGOs. Many career opportunities have been made available to the young women who have received social work education in Bait, both at the government level and in the corporate sector.

As Alice Cheney says in social work, social benefits are provided to individuals, groups and communities by adopting classical knowledge and classical methods. Also, continuous efforts are made to improve the social relations of the individual. Of course, social work is important in classical method and prudent thinking. Therefore, in the true sense, education is given to develop human beings and develop humanism in the faculty of social work.

In Aurangabad, a student killed himself by jumping from the third floor while the coffee was ripening, the strange decisions of the caste panchayat in Kantrarbhat society, virginity testing, suicides of weed-affected farmers, tribal conflicts, underlining the importance of social work education that teaches the importance of counseling to help the troubled in a classical way in all these contexts. The aim of social work education is to produce knowledgeable and skilled workers who will bring social change. It has become the need of the hour to make such activists to establish humanism in the society.
